

Kim Watts

Kim Watts is in her tenth year as an elementary school teacher. Kim received her B.S.E from the University of Central Arkansas in 1999. She loves teaching and has an ongoing passion for children in need. She is also a recipient of the 2008 Wal-Mart Teacher of the Year Award.

Kim is a member of First Baptist Church in Perryville. She is currently and has been the Vacation Bible School Director for the past three years. She is also involved with the children's choir, AWANA program, and on the steering committee for a Family Life Center. Before graduating from college with a degree in education, she had the pleasure of working in the customer service field for several years.

She lives in Perryville, Arkansas with her husband and two daughters. Kim and her family enjoy spending time together outdoors, playing board games, and attending church.

“To be involved with Camp Tetelestai and watch people develop a relationship with and grow in Jesus Christ is a truly wonderful experience. With Christ in our lives, we can accomplish the impossible.”
